

Safeguarding Adults At Risk – Policy and Guidance

1 Introduction to Safeguarding Policy and Guidance

Hesley Group offers a person centred approach which aims to develop independence and create a safe environment to maximise individual potential. The philosophy includes warmth, security, consistency, understanding and trust. This is the purpose for the service and safeguarding arrangements sit in this context. Hesley Group values are “person centred; outcome focus; quality driven; keeping people safe”. We treat every person using our services as an individual, and we work hard to ensure each person receives care that is safe, effective, caring, responsive and well led.

As a provider of care to adults with learning disabilities, Hesley Group has a key role in keeping people safe, preventing abuse and ensuring early intervention. Effective safeguarding arrangements balanced with promoting independence, good person centred care and health planning and positive behaviour support will actively ensure the support needed to keep people safe is in place.

Robust and comprehensive safeguarding and protection processes, which include listening to people supported by Hesley Group services and ensuring employees and others are able to speak up, and their concerns are acted upon, will demonstrate standards that are supported by legislation, national guidance and best practice principles.

Abuse is a violation of an individual’s human and civil rights by any other person or persons. Effective safeguarding systems are person centred.

This is why Hesley Group makes safeguarding a priority and will maintain an open and transparent approach to reporting and learn from concerns and incidents in order to increase the quality of our practice, taking account of feedback from people who use our services on feeling safe. These procedures fit with those of the Local Safeguarding Adults Boards. They exist to demonstrate to Hesley Group employees their responsibilities and explain the correct processes they must follow if they are concerned about a person’s safety and wellbeing.

1.1 Scope of Policy

Please also see the procedures document situated at ReS 2.1.2 and your Safeguarding Booklet, ReS 2.1.1. This policy refers to people we support in our registered care services for adults.

This policy applies to all employees, people we support, visitors, volunteers and contractors, without exception.

Hesley Group undertakes to ensure this policy and guidance is provided to employees on commencement and within the training given. It is refreshed regularly.

All employees, therefore, have a responsibility for ensuring they work within the remit of this policy and in the manner in which they have been trained.

Hesley Group employees have a duty to provide people using the service with the best possible care at all times, never to engage in any action or activity that could be construed as abusive and to report any suspicions they have that abuse is occurring.

All actions taken to support people must demonstrably be taken either with their consent or, if they are unable to consent, in their best interests and in line with all relevant aspects of the Mental Capacity Act 2005.

Failure by Hesley Group employees to fulfil these responsibilities and undertake any of these duties may result in disciplinary proceedings and possible dismissal.

This policy links to a number of other Hesley Group policies and the Hesley Group Code of Conduct for Employees, Per 4.9.1. Please see the final page of this document for references/links.

Each service must always:

- follow this HG policy and procedures for managing alerts and
- refer alerts to the relevant authority using the locally agreed procedures for doing so.

South Yorkshire (Barnsley and Doncaster), North Lincolnshire and North Yorkshire Safeguarding Adults Procedures are an integral part of this policy. Links to their procedures are situated in Section 2 paragraph 1 of this policy.

1.2 Outcome

People will receive services that are safe, effective, caring, responsive and well led. This includes protecting everyone we support from abuse and harm, or the risk of abuse and harm.

1.3 Why we Need a Policy

Social care services providers play an important role in the protection of people from harm and are responsible for ensuring that services and support are delivered in ways that are high quality and safe.

At Hesley Group we support people who may be at a higher risk than most in society. Many individuals have difficulty or are unable to express their concerns and fears verbally, or report things that have had a negative impact on their lives.

This could include episodes of physical abuse (including inappropriate use of restraint, medication or restriction/deprivation of liberty), sexual or emotional abuse (including discriminatory, psychological abuse) by individuals. But it could also include neglecting to support someone in the way they should be supported, for example not giving people the right support and care with their health or personal care needs, failing to give people their medication, the right food and drink, etc., or financial and material abuse.

If Hesley Group did not have proper procedures in place to check out new employees or have proper policies in place or did not manage the service properly and this resulted in people coming to harm, this could be considered to be organisational (also known as institutional) abuse.

In addition to the moral responsibility for protecting people, we are also required by law to do our utmost to protect people from harm and abuse. This includes having a working policy and guidance for employees in relation to Safeguarding Adults in our care.

2 Safeguarding Adults at Risk

2.1 The Care Act 2014 and Safeguarding

Guidance within Chapter 14 of the Care Act 2014 (The Care Act) sets out the legal requirements in relation to Safeguarding Adults.

Each local authority area that we provide services in has its own safeguarding Adults Procedures and Guidance. The procedures and guidance should be considered an integral part of this policy.

Services should follow the relevant Adult safeguarding procedures and guidance for the area the service is based with.

The Care Act 2014 places responsibility for the management of safeguarding adults with the local authority (Sections 42-47). It also places a duty on other agencies to participate and cooperate with enquiries.

The Act sets out clear criteria for what would constitute the need for a safeguarding enquiry. These are:

- The person has needs for care and support (whether or not the local authority is meeting any of those needs); and
- The person is experiencing, or at risk of, abuse or neglect; and
- As a result of those care and support needs the person is unable to protect themselves from either the risk of, or the experience of abuse or neglect.

Safeguarding in this context means protecting an adult’s right to live in safety, free from abuse and neglect. It is about people and organisations working together to prevent and stop both the risks and experience of abuse or neglect, while at the same time making sure that the adult’s wellbeing is promoted including, where appropriate, having regard to their views, wishes, feelings and beliefs in deciding on any action. This must recognise that adults sometimes have complex interpersonal relationships and may be ambivalent or unconcerned about their personal circumstances.

2.2 The six key principles that underpin all adult safeguarding work as set out in Section 42-46 of the Care Act 2014 are:

- Empowerment
Personalisation and the presumption of person-led decisions and informed consent.
- Prevention
It is better to take action before harm occurs.
- Proportionality
Proportionate and least intrusive response appropriate to the risk presented.
- Protection
Support and representation for those in greatest need.
- Partnership
Providing local solutions through services working with their communities. Communities have a part to play in preventing, detecting and reporting neglect and abuse.
- Accountability
Accountability and transparency in delivering safeguarding.

The voice of the person must guide our actions and the person’s wishes and feelings remain at the centre of what we do. Please also see our policy and guidance on Communication, ReS 5.5, Capacity and Consent, ReS 6.4A and People's Rights and Having a Say, ReS 5.8.

2.3 The Main Categories of Adult Abuse are as follows:

- Physical
- Psychological
- Neglect and Acts of Omission
- Sexual
- Financial
- Organisational (previously Institutional)

Discriminatory abuse is motivated by discriminatory and oppressive attitudes towards people on the grounds of disability, gender and gender identity and reassignment, age, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, and political beliefs. It includes verbal abuse and racist, sexist, homophobic or ageist comments, or jokes or any other form of harassment. It also includes not responding to dietary needs and not providing appropriate spiritual support. Discriminatory abuse can manifest itself in any or all of the above.

The care Act includes 3 additional categories of abuse which cover;

- Modern Slavery
- Domestic Abuse
- Self-Neglect

Other forms of abuse include;

- Sexual exploitation
- Hate crime
- Mate Crime
- Radicalisation
- Female Genital Mutilation
- Cyber Abuse
- Honour Based Violence
- Forced Marriage

2.4 The PREVENT strategy was set up by the Government to try and identify children and young people at risk from extremism and radicalisation. It may be that we identify such risks in adult services because of the vulnerability of people we support. Please see the additional guidance - Hesley Group Guidance on Extremism and Radicalisation – PREVENT, ReS 2.1.12.

2.5 County Lines is the criminal exploitation of children, young people and potentially vulnerable Adults. Like other forms of abuse and exploitation, county lines exploitation:

- can affect any child or young person (male or female) under the age of 18 years;
- can affect any vulnerable adult over the age of 18 years;
- can still be exploitation even if the activity appears consensual;
- can involve force and/or enticement-based methods of compliance and is often accompanied by violence or threats of violence;
- can be perpetrated by individuals or groups, males or females, and young people or adults; and
- is typified by some form of power imbalance in favour of those perpetrating the exploitation.

Whilst age may be the most obvious, this power imbalance can also be due to a range of other factors including gender, cognitive ability, physical strength, status, and access to economic or other resources.

One of the key factors found in most cases of county lines exploitation is the presence of some form of exchange (e.g. carrying drugs in return for something). Where it is the victim who is offered, promised or given something they need or want, the exchange can include both tangible (such as money, drugs or clothes) and intangible rewards (such as status, protection or perceived friendship or affection). It is important to remember the unequal power dynamic within which this exchange occurs and to remember that the receipt of something by a young person or vulnerable adult does not make them any less of a victim. It is also important to note that the prevention of something negative can also fulfil the requirement for exchange, for example a young person who engages in county lines activity to stop someone carrying out a threat to harm his or her family. Please see Criminal Exploitation of children and vulnerable adults: County Lines guidance, Home Office, September 2018, https://assets.publishing.service.gov.uk/government/uploads/system/uploads/attachment_data/file/741194/HOCountyLinesGuidanceSept2018.pdf

- 2.6 Everyone has a responsibility to ensure that a concern about the alleged abuse of an Adult at Risk is addressed. The Care Act 2014 placed the lead responsibility for managing adult safeguarding within the 'Local Authority' working with the police who will lead on any criminal concerns relating to an Adult at Risk.
- 2.7 A Safeguarding Adults Enquiry is known as a Section 42 enquiry. In order to protect people, prevent abuse and harm and empower the people using our services we must provide safe and effective services that meet a whole range of needs for individuals. People need to be supported appropriately to take positive risks. We also must make sure our employees are safely recruited and properly trained, supervised and managed. Enquiries may be carried out by a representative of the local authority or Integrated Care Board known formerly as the Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG).; alternatively the enquiry may be passed back to managers in Hesley Group to investigate and report back.
- 2.8 Information will only be shared on a 'need to know' basis when it is in the interests of the adult. Confidentiality must not be confused with secrecy. Informed consent should be obtained but, if this is not possible and other adults are at risk of Abuse or Neglect, it may be necessary to override the requirement; and it is inappropriate for Hesley Group employees to give assurances of absolute confidentiality in cases where there are concerns about abuse, particularly in those situations when other adults may be at risk. See also Information Sharing and Confidentiality Policy, ReS 2.4, Information Governance Policy, Corp 2.1; Being Open – Duty of Candour, Corp 8.1; and Speaking Up Policy and Guidance, Corp 5.1.
- 2.9 Mental Capacity and Safeguarding - Does the Adult at Risk lack specific capacity to make a decision – is there a Best Interest Decision required? The Mental Capacity Act 2005 (MCA 2005) is designed to protect and restore power to adults who may lack or have reduced Capacity to make certain decisions at certain times. One of the ways it does this is by putting adults at the heart of the decision-making process.

Capacity describes a person's ability to make a specific decision at a specific time. An individual is deemed to lack Capacity if at the time, a decision is required, and he or she is unable to make that decision because of an impairment or disturbance in the functioning of the mind or brain. This may be temporary or permanent.

Mental capacity is frequently raised in relation to adult safeguarding. The requirement to apply the MCA in adult safeguarding enquiries challenges many professionals and requires utmost care, particularly where it appears an adult has capacity for making specific decisions that nevertheless places them at risk of being abused or neglected.

Where a person's care arrangements present a restriction of a person's liberty that could be deemed "deprivation", i.e. if someone is under continuous supervision and control and is not free to leave the service, or subject to restrictive practices such as restraint, we must think about Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards 2007 (DoLS). This applies in adult residential services and only to people aged 18 and above. Applications are made to the supervisory authority (usually the person's funding authority) as set out in Hesley Group MCA Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards Policy and Guidance, ReS 6.4B. The DOLS are due to be replaced by the Liberty Protection Safeguards in 2023.

2.10 Offences of Treatment and Wilful Neglect – Section 44 of the MCA created the criminal offences of ill treatment and wilful neglect in respect of people who lack the ability to make decisions, however this legislation was amended to include people who have capacity to make decisions. The offences can be committed by anyone responsible for that adult's care and support - paid employees but also family carers as well as people who have the legal authority to act on that adult's behalf (i.e. persons with power of attorney or Court-appointed deputies). These offences are punishable by fines or imprisonment. Ill treatment covers both deliberate acts of ill treatment and also those acts that are reckless which results in ill treatment. Wilful neglect requires a serious departure from the required standards of treatment and usually means that a person has deliberately failed to carry out an act that they knew they were under a duty to perform.

2.11 Responsibilities for all Employees

Everyone working for Hesley Group has a responsibility to safeguard adults who use our services. Hesley Group will be fully compliant with the law and guidance in relation to safeguarding people using our services. This includes the CQC Fundamental Standards and the Health and Social Care Act (HSCA) 2008 (Regulated Activities) Regulations 2014 and HSCA Registration Regulations 2009 and all other relevant legislative requirements such as the Health and Safety at Work Act and the Care Act 2014.

Hesley Group will operate sound recruitment procedures that are designed to exclude people who are not fit to be placed in a position of trust and responsibility in relation to people who use our services. We expect as part of this process potential employees will disclose information as requested and undertake a DBS criminal records and Vetting and Barring check as required for their post. These will be renewed three-yearly.

We should always aim for a culture of openness, honesty and awareness among employees, people we support, their relatives and other stakeholders. This should enable people supported, our staff and others to raise concerns about behaviour that they suspect is abusive. People raising concerns will be reassured they will not be victimised for speaking out. Please see Speaking Up Policy, Corp 5.1, and Being Open Policy, Corp 8.1. Managers will maintain an open and transparent approach when reporting and sharing appropriate information with others.

Hesley Group will work to ensure everyone using our services will be supported to express concerns and will have access to an advocate or other skilled professional, appropriate communication tools and support with these, in order to assist them in alerting people to distress, or describing what happened in a safe and supportive environment.

All Hesley Group employees are expected to follow the local Safeguarding Adults procedures relevant to the area the service is based within See point 2.1 above for details.

The Flowchart, ReS 2.1.2a, outlines the process for reporting, recording and the management of incidents that occur in our adult residential care services.

All Hesley Group employees will have and keep safe a personal copy of the latest edition of the Hesley Group Safeguarding Adults – Guidance and Instructions for Employees, ReS 2.1.1, and should understand that failure to follow the correct procedures on protection, prevention and safeguarding matters may lead to disciplinary action and possible dismissal. Any revised versions will be distributed individually to all staff and must be signed for. New employees will receive a copy as part of their Induction.

The escalation of concerns can be made using the Safecall hotline, posters communicating this have been placed at all service, Please see Speaking Up Policy, Corp 5.1. Safe call can be contacted on 0800 915 1571 or www.safecall.co.uk/report

All Hesley Group employees will receive and keep safe a copy of the latest edition of the Hesley Group Code of Conduct for Employees, Per 4.9.1, which sets out clearly the standards of practice we expect. Any revised versions will be distributed to all staff and be signed for. New employees will receive a copy as part of their induction.

All Hesley Group employees will receive training, instructions and guidance in this Safeguarding policy, procedures and guidance and, where relevant to their role, such training and knowledge required to achieve the Care Certificate and Level 2 or Level 3 Diploma in Social Care/Diploma in Children and Young People.

All Hesley Group employees will understand the procedures for reporting suspicions or allegations to management and if necessary to external bodies.

Hesley Group expects our employees and managers will work closely with other agencies as required.

2.12 Responsibilities of Registered Managers

Registered Managers will ensure there is a Designated Person available on duty or on call for their service at all times. A Designated Person in respect of adult safeguarding should be an appropriate manager with the right skills and training to receive and deal with a concern about someone's safety and wellbeing. This will be someone with responsibility for the deployment and supervision of the staff team and the running of the service. Registered Managers should agree with the relevant Operations Director/Assistant Director Operations the local arrangements for Designated Persons.

The Registered Manager should ensure that the name and contact details for the Designated Person are known and available within the service.

Registered Managers will ensure that any member of their staff who raises concerns will be supported to discuss these by a designated person in line with our Speaking Up Charter, Corp 5.1.1, and Speaking up Debrief, Corp 5.1.2.

2.13 Responsibilities for the Hesley Group Board

The Hesley Group Board must ensure that adequate and appropriate resources are made available for the implementation of this policy. This includes the costs of training and materials. The Chief Executive or designated Operational Director will act on behalf of the Board to ensure that sufficient qualified and experienced managers are appointed and rostered as designated persons in each service.

2.14 Responsibilities for Employee Training & Development

The Hesley Group Workforce Development Team will ensure all Hesley Group employees receive training in safeguarding children and adults during their induction and receive their personal copy of the HG safeguarding procedures (ReS 2.1.1).

Safeguarding Adults is covered as a part of the Care Certificate and Level 2 Diploma in Social Care. Refreshers are also provided as a part of individual mandatory CPD.

The training covers identifying abuse and types of abuse, people at risk, signs and symptoms, Speaking Up, Mental Capacity and Hesley Group procedures.

Safeguarding booklets and Code of Conduct Booklets are issued at the induction and are updated and redistributed where there are major changes.

Hesley Group employees will receive training/undertake learning as appropriate in the delivery of safe care and support (please see Staff Learning and Development Policy, Per 3.1).

Designated persons will receive training appropriate to their role, which will be refreshed every two years.

2.15 Delivering safe and effective care and support is fundamental to this policy. This includes:

- Consultation involvement and consideration of the wishes of people we support.
- Respecting people's dignity and privacy.
- Involvement of parents, family carers and legal representatives where appropriate.
- Each person's Support Plans must be followed and regularly reviewed. This includes the person's individual risk assessment and their behaviour support plans.
- People must live in an environment that reflects their personal style and preferences, that is safe and meets their needs.
- All managers and their employees must follow Hesley Group policies, procedures and guidance that enable them to give safe and appropriate support. Our policies are there to help. (See policy and guidance section at the end of this document.)

- Application of the HELP programme and the principles of Positive Behaviour Support outlined in Positive and Proactive Care.

2.16 Recording, Sign off and oversight of Reports of Concern and Safeguarding

Please also see Flowchart ReS 2.1.2A

When the designated person has been alerted in relation to a concern they will ensure that any required immediate actions to safeguard an individual have been undertaken.

The Designated Person will ask the reporter to record their concern onto the Ulysses system as a 'report of concern'.

Once a report of concern is submitted onto the Ulysses system it automatically alerts the Designated Person for the service.

Alerts are also sent to identified senior managers within the service, members of the Hesley Group Quality Team and relevant members of the Executive Team including the Nominated Individual for the service. Those alerted to the concern are able to monitor progress and actions taken within the system.

The Designated person records all actions, contacts and decisions taken in relation to the report of concern. The recording should include information about any referral that has been made to the local authority Safeguarding Adults team and notification to the CQC, if these haven't been undertaken the Designated Person should record their reason and rationale for the decision.

The final outcome of the concern and any learning must be recorded on the system before it can be closed. Those receiving an alert in relation to the concern will also be notified when the concern has been closed on the system.

2.17 Referral to the DBS Barring List must be undertaken by the Registered Manager or their Deputy (or an appropriate member of the Executive Team if necessary) when someone is dismissed or leaves before they could be dismissed when an allegation of abuse is considered to be upheld.

Please note that a Flowchart has been appended to the Safeguarding Adults policy at ReS 2.1.8, in order to provide easier access than having to navigate the DBS website. This makes clear the DBS process and our responsibilities as an employer and referrer to undertake investigations and as much of a disciplinary process as is feasible when someone resigns before due process is complete. The DBS do not conduct investigations, they base their decisions on evidence that is provided by us as a referrer.

Referrals should be sent in the first instance to a senior member of the Quality Team who will counter-check each referral before it is submitted to DBS. A central record is made of all DBS referral documentation and stored securely on the server.

A copy of the DBS referral should also be sent to the administrator within the Human Resources Team.

Should mail come direct to the referrer as a result of making a referral they should scan and send a copy to Quality Team for the central record.

People who are being referred must be informed by Hesley Group of the intention to refer at the time of their dismissal or resignation, either by letter or in person and followed up in writing. For further information please see the link to the DBS Guidance at <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/dbs-referrals-form-and-guidance>.
